

Making Your Own Mask

A tutorial on how to make your own fabric face mask from common household materials.

“The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has recommended that healthy and sick Americans wear basic cloth masks in public – a result of new concerns that the coronavirus is spread by infected people who have no symptoms.” Access the pattern and read the rest of this NYT article here.

Now to find my sewing machine. Susan’s are so much more attractive than the hardware store variety!

Thank you, Susan for sharing your sewing with us.
