

Humor Helps

Yes, We Make Coronavirus Jokes

“Humor helps us take back control and connect—two things we have lost in our fight against the pandemic. Not only are we unable to stop the tidal wave of infection washing over us, but we are being forced to endure this reality alone in our own home. Powerless and isolated, we’re finding that the joke is now our most reliable shield—and our warmest comfort blanket.”

Read the entire Atlantic article here and do not miss this video!

Our sense of humor will save us. Thank you, Terry, for sending this wonderful video our way!